

Mint of the United States at Philadelphia,

Cabinet Office,

September 13, 1887.

Sir,

That permission of the Director of the Mint, be obtained, that we may purchase a full set of the United States proof Coins of 1889, for the Cabinet,

Heretofore we bought the proof coins direct from the Coiner, at face value, but last year, the manner of purchase, caused some trouble in the accounts at Washington. After which, the Director issued an order that ~~no~~ the proof coins should not be purchased for the Cabinet; hereafter except by his permission.
